

SMART MOVES II PRACTICAL TIPS FOR SELF-DEFENSE

LED BY SHOTOKAN MASTER
BAYNE ORR

FOR DANCERS & NON-DANCERS!

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26, 2019
@10:00AM
QUEEN'S HALL, $30

coco
CONTEMPORARY
CHOREOGRAPHERS' COLLECTIVE

coco
coco

DANCE FESTIVAL
PRESENTS

coco
CONTEMPORARY
CHOREOGRAPHERS'
COLLECTIVE

IBIS T&T PERFORMERS

in their dance theatre production

An epic, compassionate and dramatic thought provoking dance and music production that you must see again.

Admission $150

me

Renewed Revised Relived

25 OCTOBER, 2019
QUEEN'S HALL
7:30pm

Master Class in Caribbean Folk & Afro-Cuban Dance

Sunday, October 27, 2019 @1:30PM
Queen's Hall, $30

Led by Kieron Sargeant
Florida State University Masters Candidate
&
La Toya Davis-Craig, PhD
Community Relations and Special Programs
Florida State University

BALLET WITH
STEFANIE TAKEI-TAYLOR

FREE
COCO
ONLINE MASTER CLASS SERIES

Thursday, October 8, 2020 * 5:00-6:00pm AST

ZOOMROOM MEETING I.D.: 794 5362 5307

Password: 3Pg2sz5

coco
CONTEMPORARY
CHOREOGRAPHERS' COLLECTIVE

coco
CONTEMPORARY CHOREOGRAPHERS COLLECTIVE

ALIEN

Call for submissions

COCO Dance Festival online 2020

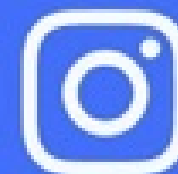

Capturing Movement for the Camera

coco
CONTEMPORARY
CHOREOGRAPHERS' COLLECTIVE

FREE
FOLLOW-UP SESSION WITH ANNE WHARTON

INSTAGRAM LIVE!
4:30PM ATLANTIC TIME
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 2020

COCO ONLINE MASTER CLASS SERIES

GUINEAN DANCE WITH JENISE ANTHONY & MOHAMED DIABY
(LIVE DRUMS!)

September 1, 2020
5:30-6:30pm
Atlantic Time via ZOOM
ZOOMROOM MEETING I.D.: 830 2139 8317

coco
CONTEMPORARY CHOREOGRAPHERS
COLLECTIVE

Authors in the virtual NCC Bocas Lit Fest programme include (top row, left to right) Nalo Hopkinson, Meka Odeh, Karen Lord, Tessa McWatt; (bottom row, left to right) Richard Georges, Ingrid Persaud, Vahni Capildeo, and Canisia Lubrin

Take three

T&T arts festivals move online

For everyone in the culture business, 2020 has been a year of reinvention. As COVID-19 regulations have temporarily closed theatres, cinemas, and art galleries, arts producers have had to figure out how to reach audiences in new forms and on new platforms. Three popular festivals in Trinidad and Tobago have embraced the virtual challenge.

trinidad+tobago film festival (ttff)

9 to 15 September
ttfilmfestival.com

Screens are essential features for any film festival. This year, from the Caribbean to Latin America, Europe to North America, the ttff is bringing the world to your own living room. On opening night, cricket fans around the globe are in for a treat with the feature-length documentary 501 Not Out — inspired by the extraordinary career of cricket legend Brian Lara. You can also join Academy Award-winning documentary director Orlando von Einsiedel and acclaimed UK film and television producer Lee Thomas for workshops on Zoom. Plus, explore livestreams of free online industry events, panels and presentations via Facebook.

NCC Bocas Lit Fest

18 to 20 September
bocaslitfest.com

The Anglophone Caribbean's biggest literary festival — celebrating its tenth year — has been running free weekly online events since May, culminating in a weekend of readings, debates and performances in September. Highlights include a "Future Friday" programme in which speculative fiction writers imagine how the Caribbean might evolve from the crises of 2020, and a commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of T&T's 1970 Black Power Revolution, alongside book launches, a virtual version of the signature Bocas "Stand and Deliver" open mic, calypso, drama, and more — all free, and streamed via the festival website and social media.

COCO Dance Festival

24 and 25 October
facebook.com/COCODanceFest

Creativity is not on lockdown, where dance is involved. As the world comes to terms with the strange new normal, and many of us grapple with a sense of alienation, T&T's Contemporary Choreographers' Collective (COCO) presents a virtual programme called ALIEN. Juried works, pieces by the festival's founders and directors, and specially invited regional and international guests are all in the mix — streaming via online platforms including Facebook, with content remaining viewable for a limited time after first airing.

TODAY!

COCO CONVOS

Chats with our master class leaders

Sunday, August 16
@5:00pm AST
Instagram Live

coco
CONTEMPORARY
CHOREOGRAPHERS'
COLLECTIVE

COCO CONVOS

Chats with our master class
leaders

Nicole Wesley

coco
CONTEMPORARY
CHOREOGRAPHERS'
COLLECTIVE

Sunday, July 26@5:00pm AST
Instagram Live