UTT LIBRARIES NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS DATABASE

The newspaper clippings database provides access to a collection of local and regional digitized content collated from the Trinidad and Tobago daily newspapers. The content aligns closely with the various programmes offered at UTT.

Topics range from Abortion to Wetlands, and provide information that is not readily available from traditional sources.

The newspaper clippings database is one way in which UTT libraries provide access to local and regional information in a globalized environment.

The UTT community is encouraged to search, browse and use the database to aid in teaching, learning, research and individual development.
